UNCLE SAM BUYS IT!

On May 7th, 1891, the contract for supplying the U. S. Army with Baking Powder was awarded the Cleveland Baking Powder Company. The fact that the government requisition calls for Baking Powder "equal in quality to Cleveland's," is a high tribute to the great merit of the powder.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., April 20, 1892.

The clearing condition has moved from Manitoba to Lake Superior, increasing greatly in magnitude, and forcing back the storm which was central over northern Texas. The pressure is unusually high for this season of the year, several points reporting 30.6 inches. The high covers the entire country north of the latitude of 40 degrees from ocean to ocean. Rain has fallen generally from Wyoming eastward to the Atlantic seaboard, south of the latitude of 40 degrees. The weather over the entire country is generally cloudy. It was snowing in Wyoming and Dakota, and raining over the lower Mississippi and Ohio valleys Wednesday morning. Brisk to high easterly winds are reported from lake stations, Chicago reporting a current velocity of 36 miles per hour from the northeast. The temperature is below the normal in all districts, but has changed but slightly during the past 24 hours. A cold wave covers the extreme northwest. The Mississippi river is above the danger line at Memphis and Cairo and falling. It is above at Vicksburg and New Orleans and rising. At New Orleans it is 1.9 feet above.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—Fair, followed by rain to-night or early to-morrow; slight change in temperature. Brisk to high east to northeast winds.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Ohio—Showers, easterly winds.
Indiana and Illinois—Showers, northeasterly winds
Michigan and Wisconsin—Fair, followed by showers; northeasterly winds.

Found — not lately, but 25 years ago — something that perfectly and permanently cures Catarrh in the Head. It's Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy — and where everything else fails, that cures. The worst chronic cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. See if yours won't. The makers of this Remedy say it will. And they make you this offer: if they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case, they'll pay you $500 in cash—and they mean it.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh; Headache; obstruction of nose; discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, bloody, putrid; and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. You won't have all at once; probably only a few of them. But you won't have any of them, if you'll take Dr. Sage's Remedy.

Keystone State Republicans Whoop it Up

For the Present Whitehouse Occupant.

The Platform Adopted at Harrisburg.

Quay Turned Down by Republicans.

Proceedings of the Convention That Has Been Looked Forward to With Hopes by the Anti-Harrison Wing.

Convention Hall, Harrisburg, April 20.—Active canvassing for some of the places on the republican ticket to be named today was kept up long after midnight.

It began again at 7 o'clock this morning and before 8 the candidates were in their parlors at the Commonwealth, and the Lochiel hotels, shaking hands with all comers. It was a warm night, but one of the booms seemed to be frosted this morning. It was that of George A. Castor, the Philadelphia tailor, who was the Philadelphia candidate for congressman-at-large.

There was no doubt of the sincerity of the Philadelphians for Mr. Castor, but he showed no strength in the country and no trade could be arranged to the supreme judgeship, which would give him any guarantee of the nomination.

Early this morning his friends were talking of turning his strength over to General Lilly when his case would prove hopeless.

Judge White, who is not considered in the roll for the judgeship, is making more noise than any one else. His badges and his shouters are everywhere and his friends from Indiana county were flourishing convention tickets this morning.

The distribution of tickets has created less than the usual amount of dissatisfaction, and general good humor prevails. It has been decided that Chris Magee, of Pittsburg, will be chairman of the committee on resolutions, and David Martin, of the committee on permanent organization. There are no contested seats.

The opera house was thrown open to the delegates at 9 o'clock. The decorations which had adorned the stage and the auditorium at the convention last week are still in place. They are eminently nonpartisan and intensely patriotic, and they fit a republican as well as a democratic gathering. The stage was reserved for the presiding officer, the clerks, and the newspaper correspondents.

The delegates found on their chairs a circular letter from Mr. Bressler, one of the minor candidates for delegate-at-large, demanding a tariff of $30 a ton on ore and $12 on pig iron, $25 on railroad iron, 15 cents a pound for wool and higher rates on cloths and silk. On this platform Mr. Bressler proposed to make his personal canvass. But very few of the delegates took the Bressler candidacy seriously.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Watres, of the state committee, at 10:20 a. m. Secretary Frank W. Leach, read the call for the convention, and then the roll of delegates.

At the conclusion of the roll call, Jas. L. Mills, of Philadelphia, was recognized. He nominated James W. Latta, of Philadelphia, for temporary chairman. Gen. Latta was received with applause when he mounted the platform. He said:

"Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for this distinguished honor The republican party again assemble in annual session, that remembering the prestige of its past achievement it may gird itself once more for battle with the common enemy.

"This is no mid-winter convention. Whatever may be the interests of the hour, whatever may be the deeds and the actions of the day are but the echoes and voices of the people themselves, spoken in terms of pronounced unanimity here on this blooming budding spring time in the home and hamlets of the men seated within these wall, representatives of constituencies which shall hold them stoutly to the high accountability of their fixed responsibilities.

"No troublous dissensions disturb the harmonies of the most complete political organization the people have ever seen. No factions mar its peace; no differences involve its councils. No offended delegates linger in anger beyond its outer walls, nor will the mention of the names of any who are now or have ever been trusted guides or venerated councillors be received with rude rebuffs or stinging hisses."

At the conclusion of the remarks of Gen. Latta, which were received with great applause, the temporary organization was completed by the election of minor officers.

Resolutions providing that all resolutions be referred without debate, and that the rules of the Pennsylvania house of representatives prevail were adopted.

The Platform.

The republicans of Pennsylvania assembled in convention on the eve of another national campaign, send greetings to the republicans of sister states. To the republicans of Rhode Island especially we extend hearty congratulations upon the triumph they have just achieved, and hail it as the omen of a more decisive victory throughout the country in November.

We earnestly invite the calm and dispassionate judgment of the people of our state upon the record of the republican party since its organization at Pittsburg 36 years ago. We appeal to the voters of all shades of political belief, and especially to the young men who cast their first vote this year to study this record from the dark days when the new party arose in its might to oppose the defiant pretensions of the slave power, until now, when its very name is the synonym of national strength and mighty achievements.

It has saved the federal union from destruction, enfranchised slavery, preserved and enlarged the public credit, established a sound currency and protected American labor.

The party of Lincoln and Grant, of Harrison and Blaine, has always had the wisdom to do right and the courage to be consistent. It has never been found on both sides of any great question. It has never in one breath, as our democratic opponents in Pennsylvania have just done, invoked the shades of deceased statesmen who were protectionists and shouted hosannas to living free traders. From first to last the republican party has been true to its professions and steadfast in its devotion to the public welfare.

We declare our unbounded confidence in President Benjamin Harrison, a leader without fear and without reproach. He has given to the country a wise and patriotic administration of the government; he has maintained the national dignity and honor; he has upheld the glory of the American flag abroad, while promoting peace and advancing prosperity at home; he has met every duty of his office with intelligence and courage, and has redeemed every pledge made to the country in the platform upon which he was elected.

In the unfortunate disputes with Italy and Chile, in the threatened complications with Great Britain, and with the development of the principles of reciprocity, the republican administration has acted with judicial temper and with American spirit; and in the achievement of these victories of peace, we, as republicans of Pennsylvania, have an especial right to pride in the eminent service of the distinguished secretary of state, that brilliant son of Pennsylvania and ideal of republican leadership, James G. Blaine.

We reaffirm as the corner-stone of republican faith the principle of protection to American labor upon which our American greatness is founded and by which our prosperity must be maintained.

We heartily commend the McKinley act as an exemplification of this principle and challenge intelligent criticism of its spirit and details. It protects every industry which still needs protection, while reducing duties upon the necessaries of life, and making large additions to the free list. We hail with satisfaction the signs in the recent elections that the country has come to realize the wisdom of its purposes as commerce and manufacture have adjusted themselves to its provisions. We favor liberal but well guarded appropriations for internal improvements, and especially commend the construction of a ship canal between Lake Erie and the great river system of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

We approve the general policy of the last republican congress in dealing with the silver question. We are opposed to the free coinage of silver, but favor the purchase of American silver at its market value, and the issue by the government of treasury notes in payment thereof.

That the course of the republican party upon this question has hitherto been wise and liberal is proven by the fact that today there is no scarcity of money in our country for the transaction of legitimate business of the payment of wages, and by further fact that a silver dollar or a paper dollar is the equivalent in value of a gold dollar in the purchase of the necessaries of life.

We again express the gratitude of the republicans of Pennsylvania to the soldiers and sailors of our country who defended the government from domestic foes during the great rebellion and we pledge them and their families our continued support in the way of liberal pension legislation.

We recognize the valuable additions to our population by worthy immigrants, but the interests of our wage earners and the peace and prosperity of our country are threatened by a great influx of undesirable immigrants from Europe, and the time has come for more stringent immigration laws than those now in force. We believe in a free ballot and a fair count and affirm that, unless intelligent and patriotic sentiment accord these rights to the humblest citizen in every section of the country, it becomes the duty of the federal government to secure them by congressional enactment.

WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE

In the Celebrated Van Loon Trial.

The Double Identification Causing Trouble.

Testimony to Show That Van Loon Was in Toledo When the Crime Was Committed.

Ottawa, O., April 20.—(Special)—Never in the history of Putnam county has there been such a rush to procure seats in the court room as there is now during the Van Loon trial.

The court room to-day is packed with people, the ladies again outnumbering the male attendance.

Again it became necessary to fill the space behind the judge with chairs which were occupied by a number of prominent ladies in this locality, including Mrs. Gen. A. V. Rice, Mrs. Judge J. J. Moore, Mrs. W. H. Loy, Mrs. W. W. Kelly, Miss Zella Rice and Miss Ida Goetchius

Yesterday morning Mr. D. W. Huddle was recalled and denied giving Frank Van Loon or his wife $300, $500 or $800 or any part of it.

M. B. Martin, the detective, was recalled and testified that Van Loon weighed 185 pounds at the time of his arrest.

So far nearly every one of the witnesses on the part of the state positively identify the prisoner, notwithstanding that he is fully 20 pounds heavier and also much lighter in complexion than the description they give of the desperado that committed the Columbus Grove murder and bank robbery.

Mr. John Bailey, ex-prosecuting attorney, was called to testify. It was expected by a good many that Van Loon had made a confession to Mr. Bailey, but from the question that brought out the information Mr. Bailey said:

"I told him that I was prosecuting attorney and that if he was the man who was at Columbus Grove he had better not say anything; if he was not he could help me to unravel the matter by showing me where he was between July 29 and August 12."

Mr. and Mrs. Holmer, A. C. Bowers, Daniel Nafzoler, J. S. Vandruff and Geo. Shrack, all of Franklin county, testified for the defense that Van Loon's reputation for integrity, honesty and character had always been good.

Mrs. Lillie Bowers testified that Mrs. D. W. Huddle, mother-in-law of Van Loon, had told her that Martin, the detective, would not get all of the reward.

Abraham Seifert, Union township, Putnam county, testified—"Was in the bank when the desperado thrust a revolver in my face and one in Mr. Mapel's face, saying, 'I am a second Jesse James and want your money.' I followed him as he backed out of the door, saw him collide with Wm. Van Demark, took his eyes off of me and shot Wm. Van Demark. I next saw him in jail at Ottawa, and his name is James Roberts."

Roberts' photograph was presented to Mr. Seifert and he said he believed Roberts was the man who did the shooting.

Mr. Seifert also said that T. J. Mapel had told him that Roberts was the man.

Geo. M. Peck, policeman at Lima, and Thomas Phelan of Lima, testified that they had a conversation with Mr. Mapel at the depot in Lima about September 21, 1891, and that Mr. Mapel said to them there that Roberts was the man, and if he was never convicted they would never find the man.

Chas. F. Price, of Lima, testified that Mr. Mapel had told him that Roberts was the man, and if not convicted they would never find the man.

W. F. Sullivan, of Lancaster, superintendent of pumps on C., H. V. & T. R. R., testified that he had seen Van Loon at Mrs. Sander's, 723 Mulberry street, Toledo, O., on August 7 and 8, 1891, the day of the crime, and on the night of August 7 slept with Van Loon, arose the next morning at 5:20 and left Van Loon still in bed.

Mrs. Emma Sanders, sister of Van Loon, living at 732 Mulberry street, Toledo, testified that she came from Columbus, via the C., H. V. & T. R. R., on August 6, 1891; Van Loon met her at the Pennsylvania depot and remained at her house until August 8th, the day the crime was committed; the night of August 7th, Van Loon and Mr. Sullivan slept together at her house; Van Loon and Carrie went up street in the evening of August 8 and purchased a pair of shoes. Van Loon left her house in the evening of August 8th.

On cross examination she stated that John P. Bailey called at her house on October 24th; she sent her daughter Carrie to a drug store near by and procured an almanac. Mr. Bailey and herself marked the dates when she returned from Columbus, when Van Loon was there, etc.

The defense is just fairly started on the 180 witnesses subpoenaed.

NO END TO THE WAR

Wages and Rates are Still Unsettled.

Sailors Fight for Their Rights to Ship.

A Vessel High and Dry at Manistique—Mountains of Sawdust—General Marine News.

Chicago, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—Owing to the arrival of the fleet, grain freights were weak yesterday at 1 1-4 cents oats, and 1 1-2 cents corn, and 1 3-4 cents wheat to Buffalo.

Propellers took numerous jags of corn and oats on low through rates to New York and New England points. To Georgian bay the rate on corn was 1-4 cents better, and the Buffalo rate being 1 3-4 cents. Wheat to Kingston was 3 3-4 cents.

The capacity taken was: Wheat, 190,000 bu.; corn, 250,000 bu.; oats, 50,000 bu.; flaxseed, 20,000 bu.

Charters were: To Buffalo—Boston, wheat and corn; Conemaugh, Lycoming and one other, wheat; Rochester, corn and oats; Seneca, corn. To Erie—Clarion, flaxseed; P. D. Armour, Deleware, corn. To Georgian Bay—Isabella Boyce and schooner not named, corn. The steamer Majestic goes to Escanaba from here to load iron ore for Ohio ports at 65 cents; the steamer Otego and schooners Montmorency and Monticello go to Escanaba to load iron ore for Tonawanda at 81.

Found the Blankets.

Over $200 of blankets which had been stolen from the Graham & Morton steamers by Louis Robb was recovered yesterday. Robb tried to assassinate Mayor Hobb, of Benton Harbor, and was captured at Logansport, Ind. He was then brought back and placed under bonds of $3,500, Edward Brandt and John Thomas being bondsmen. He has again disappeared, and a search through his effects brought to light the goods stolen from the City of Chicago and Puritan.

Forty Miles of Ice.

D. T. Helm, the vessel owner, telegraphed to Duluth yesterday as follows: "When is navigation at the North Pole going to open?" In reply he received a message stating that eight steamers would leave Duluth this morning in a concerted and desperate attempt to force their way through the ice, which now extended 40 miles into Lake Superior.

Hard Lines at Manistique.

"There is a good-sized schooner occupying Parson Moushout's corn patch at Manistique," reported Capt. Wm. Lynn of the steamer Canistee yesterday. "The vessel was driven ashore last fall and abandoned, and since then the seas have carried her 300 feet further in'and, so that she will now interfere with corn planting on Mushout's farm. In order to float her she will have to be raised and launched.

"There is always lots of sawdust at Manistique, but this spring there are mountains of it. The gales have driven the stuff up on the bluffs until it looms up 30 feet in height, giving the harbor a most strange and picturesque appearance. In 12 feet of water Lights have to go through six feet of sawdust and steamers which cannot work sawdust through their exhaust have no business going there."

The Western Reserve.

The big steamship Western Reserve is breaking the record on quick round trips between Chicago and Buffalo. She left here April 13 with over 100,000 bushels of grain and arrived back yesterday at 3:30 p. m., light, having made the round trip in six days, 14 1-2 hours. The Owego must look to her laurels.

To Carry 170,000 Bushels.

The entire corn product of Kansas county can be carried at one trip by the monster steel steamer, now being built at Detroit for the Eddy-Shaw fleet. She will carry 170,000 bushels of corn without crowding.

Fought His Way Through.

"I won't have it that way," exclaimed Adolph Metcalf, a Knights of Labor sailor, when he was surrounded by Chicago Seamen's union men on South Water street yesterday. Backed up against the Lumber Exchange building until he had time to size his assailants up, and then fought like a Trojan. One blow was all they could get in on him, for he proved to be a fighter from Wayback. He struck four of the men and knocked two of them down, and then he gracefully retired. That a knight should fight was a perfect surprise party to the union committee. Metcalf had shipped as mate of the barge Mitchell, and he was taken out to the vessel at anchor by a tug during the afternoon.

Owing to the efforts of the union committees and delegates, the barges Mitchell and Nelson and the schooner Folsom, all grain-loaded for Buffalo, have suffered great delay. The union wants Capt. Mitchell, the owner, to carry its men at $2 per day, while he insists on carrying Knights of Labor at $1.75. The union sailors, pretending to be non-union seamen from the Atlantic coast, endeavored to get berths on the two barges yesterday, offering to go for $1.75. Capt. Mitchell told them he had changed his mind, and now wanted nothing but Elderkin men, whereupon the masqueraders all showed union cards and thus defeated their own little scheme.

Up to a late hour last night the Folsom and her tow were still held here because their crews were not filled out. Capt. Mitchell said that he was surprised that the mayor and chief of police should allow Chicago commerce to be thus impeded by the Seamen's union. He said numerous vessel owners refused to send their boats here because of the certainty of trouble.

Lake Seamen's Union.

Chicago, April 20.—The delegates from the Seamen's unions met again yesterday. Delegates who arrived yesterday were C. Walker, of Boston, Ernest Van Hoven, of Philadelphia, and Joseph McGregory, of New York, who made up the "conferring body of 12." Temporary organization was made with Richard Powers as chairman, John Haist as secretary, T. J. Elderkin as treasurer, and C. S. Hagan as master-at-arms.

The organization was effected under the name, "The National Seamen's Union of America." It was divided territorially into four districts—the Atlantic coast, great lakes, gulf streams and Pacific coast. Methods were provided by which any other province might come into the union. Committees were appointed with chairmen as follows:

Ways and means, John Finerty; resolutions, John Haist; rules, C. S. Hagan; organization, T. Waterhouse; legislation, T. J. Elderkin.

Resolutions were adopted reciting that aliens were employed on American vessels, and that the union would petition congress to enact such laws as would require at least all the officers of American vessels to be bona fide American residents as well as citizens. The latter part of the day was employed considering the rules for the new federation. This committee is composed of delegates representing 35,000 seamen in unions along the lakes, the gulf streams and the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Dull at Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—Over fifty vessels have left without cargoes for upper lake ports during the last few days in preference to taking coal at present rates. The outlook for the next fortnight is discouraging.

Attacking the Ice Pack.

Duluth, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—A fleet of seven boats started at noon in a grand attempt to get through the pack ice at this end of Lake Superior. Chances of success or failure are about even. The boats are C. W. Elphic, J. W. Nichol, John Mitchell, S. Dot. Kirby and J. C. Gilchrist, with 340,000 bushels of wheat, Alexander Mimick with flaxseed, and the Eber Ward with flour. The fleet took two tugs with them, and will act in concert in this great attack on ice.

At noon the Gilchrist was leading the fleet.

Cleveland Rates.

Cleveland, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—Eighty cents is offered for Marquette or carrier. There is no demand for anything from Escanaba or Ashlnad, but boats are not pressing the market for loads from these points. Coal is scarce but increased supply and reduction in number of vessels looking for loads the the favorable conditions expected next week.

The Break Checked.

Chicago, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—Some improvement was shown in grain freight to-day. It is found that many boats supposed to be on the market were placed for ore yesterday. The suppression of ore charters at Cleveland has had much to do with the panic in the grain carrying trade. Vessel agents said this morning that a further break might be stopped.

The Tuttle Released.

Amherstburg, April 20.—The Tuttle was released from Bar Point at daylight after lightering part of her cargo. She then proceeded on her way.

Iron State Released.

Sault Ste Marie, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—The schooner Iron State, reported aground below Wilson's dock, was released last night by the Iron Duke and arrived here at 9:00 this morning.

Duluth Rates.

Duluth, April 20.—(Special Marine Service)—The wheat rate to Buffalo is nominally three cents, and 5 cents to Kingston. Rates are not off in sympathy with Chicago because there is no demand for boats to load grain here at any price just now. At noon the Gilchrist was leading the fleet in fight on ice.

RACE RIOT IN BROOKLYN

Irish and Italians Come Together.

Three Men Shot and a Number of Others Badly Cut—Trouble of Long Standing.

New York, April 20.—In a riot between Irish and Italian longshoremen at Woodruff's store, Brooklyn, yesterday, two Irishmen were shot, three Italians were badly cut and bruised and eight or ten others on both sides were slightly wounded. The following is a list of the more seriously injured:

Frank Angelo, ear cut and face badly bruised. Lynch, Patrick, shot in forehead; Marcello, Salvator, scalp wound and bruised cheek; Mouzeno, Vincenzo, seriously bruised and cut on back; Murphy, Edward, shot in the right thigh.

Trouble has been brewing for several months along the Brooklyn water front, owing to the fact that the Italians will work for almost any price. A crowd of unemployed Irishmen gathered there yesterday and a pitched battle occurred. The police arrived after the Irishmen had been finally repulsed. No arrests were made. The Irishmen and the Italians are intensely bitter and the police fear that there will be another and more serious outbreak before long.

THERE WILL BE TROUBLE

Two Thousand Chinese Trying to Break In.

If They Succeed in Crossing the Border Blood Will be Shed in Great Quantities.

Seattle, Wash., April 20.—Two thousand Chinamen are distributed along the Washington, Idaho and Montana line awaiting the expiration of the exclusion law on May 6 in order to cross into the United States from British Columbia.

Eminent counsel have been retained by the companies which bring the coolies over under contract to defend any of the Chinese who may be arrested after crossing the border on May 6.

The feeling against the Mongols is very bitter among laboring men, and it is probable that after May 6, if it should be decided that the present law expired then and if no new law should be enacted, summary proceedings to expel Chinese would be taken.

BAY STATE REPUBLICANS

The Convention in Session in Boston.

Everything Republican is Commended.

While Everything Democratic is Condemned—Opposed to the Spoils System—Pension Scandal Overlooked.

Boston, April 20.—The republican state convention for the election of four delegates to the Minneapolis convention, was held in Tremont temple to-day.

The convention was called to order at 11:15 by Secretary A. C. Ratshesky, chairman of the state committee, and Mr. E. S. Draper was made temporary chairman. After prayer, Mr. Draper delivered a brief address, which was heartily applauded.

The Platform.

The republicans of Massachusetts, in harmony with the republicans of the United States, stand opposed to the free coinage of silver, and we, their delegates, denounce the measure supported in the present congress by the vast majority of the representatives of that party which opposed the resumption of specie payments, gave itself up in the time of the country's greatest financial danger to every dishonest scheme which promised its restoration to power, and still maintains its attitude as the consistent foe of an honest dollar.

The passage of the bill now pending in congress which was temporarily defeated by the practically united action of the republican members, would derange values, reduce the pay of labor, impair the obligation of contracts and put our currency on the silver basis of the Asiatic nations.

Our unit of value should be maintained at par with the money of the commercial world, and great as were the benefits of the silver law of 1880, great for what it averted as well as for what it secured for the country, we believe, in view of the continued decline in the purchasing power of silver, and in the absence of a general international agreement, fixing the ratio between the two metals, that the purchase of silver bullion by the treasury and the issue of certificates thereon should be for the time suspended.

To the application of the principle of protection in raising our national revenues is due in a large measure the wonderful growth of the country and the vastly improved condition of our wage earners over that of the workingmen of Europe.

The substitution of a free trade for a protective tariff would be fraught with disaster. Whatever amendments of our tariff laws may be from time to time demanded from our changing financial needs should be made by the friends and not the enemies of protection, and should be made with a view to the development of our great national resources and upon the general principle that the less the labor involved in the production of any article, the less should be the protection which it receives.

We commend the system of commercial treaties which seeks the national expansion of our foreign trade by arrangements having regard to the peculiar laws and products of each nation, rather than by a general law opening our markets to foreign producers without, in many cases, receiving any benefit in return.

Our antagonists betray their lack of union upon any comprehensive economic scheme and an attempt to enact the Mills bill in sections is the only policy they have to oppose to the magnificent republican and American system of protection allied with reciprocity.

The reform of the civil service should yet more generally apply to the holders of non-political offices, to whom a secure tenure should be an incentive to the faithful discharge of their duty.

The spoils system which bestows office as pay for party work, or more commonly for work for the successful candidate within a party, debauches the public service, converts elections into a mere award of prizes and not a settlement of principles, and brings about the degradation of popular governments.

The right of every voter to cast his vote and have it honestly counted is a fundamental principle of our government and the enjoyment of that right is essential to the perpetuity of the republic.

We condemn the policy of the democratic party of conferring the right to govern upon the minority as shown by its acts in those republican states of which it has secured the accidental or fraudulent control.

We congratulate the country that its highest court has vindicated the restoration of power to the majority in congress by the rulings of a republican speaker.

We favor the enactment of a national bankruptcy law, of laws for the rebuilding of our merchant marine, and the strengthening of our navy, and while welcoming the industrious emigrant, we demand that the criminal and those likely to become a public charge should be excluded from our shores. The nation should care for the needy and deserving veteran of the war for the union.

We heartily endorse the patriotic administration of President Harrison. We admire his firm and courageous stand for a sound currency, the faithful enforcement of the civil service law and its application to new offices, the general efficiency and freedom from scandal prevailing in every department and the brilliant diplomacy which, while vigilantly maintaining our honor against the more powerful nations, has sought to draw still more closely to us our weaker neighbors by the bonds or reciprocal trade. His administration has earned, and we believe will receive the approbation of the country.

A CONSPIRACY TO ROB

Big Sensation in the New York Customs House.

Brokers, Importers and Employes Implicated.

Thirty Arrests of Prominent People Who Have Been Stealing from the Government.

New York, April 20.—The custom house authorities for some time past have been quietly investigating what has turned out to be a gigantic conspiracy of custom house employes, brokers and importers, who have for many years been defrauding the government by undervaluing imports.

Three arrests were made last night, and it is learned that 30 persons are to be arrested. These include a few importers, two or three brokers, and the rest are custom employes. The government has evidence that 45 others are implicated, but there is not sufficient proof of their guilt at present to warrant their arrest.

Collector Hendricks and Special Treasury Agent Whitehead held a conference last night in regard to the matter, but neither official would talk of the case at present.

THE PRICE OF GAS

Interview With Secretary Foster.

People Must Pay More for Their Fuel.

Not Enough Profit in Present Rates.

National Politics Discussed at Length.

Cleveland and Harrison to be the Opposing Candidates—The International Silver Conference Assured.

Secretary of the Treasury Chas. Foster met a Bee by appointment last evening and talked interestingly on many subjects that are now agitating the public mind.

As stated in the Bee yesterday, Mr. Foster is not looking well. His hair is whiter and his face thinner and paler than one year ago. The continual and incessant strain of his office is evidently telling on what has been a robust constitution.

Perhaps Bee readers are as much interested in natural gas as anything else just now. Secretary Foster, in reply to a query, said it was not the intention, as far as he was aware, of enlarging the Northwestern plant here.

"I see our directors have again elected me president," he said, "but outside of the fact that I propose putting no more money into it I know nothing, practically nothing."

"Do you think prices will be advanced?"

"Yes, I think they should be. We can make no money at present rates or double present rates."

"What do you think would be a fair price?"

"I think 20 cents would be a low price. For less it will not pay. How is the city's plant coming out?"

He was told that, everything considered, it was doing fairly well and that the trustees proposed expending $100,000 more

The governor—by the way, he likes the title better than any other; everyone calls him governor:

"They have spent a million and a quarter already, and now here goes $100,000 more after it. Well, it's too bad. You remember when I, in a public speech, told the people what our actual income was they laughed at me. Mr. Kumler contradicted me. I said then it was strange that in Toledo where I had so many friends I would not be believed on this subject, while few would doubt my word on any other. I wonder if they don't believe now that I spoke the truth then.

"Speaking with a friend this morning he referred to the gas. He remarked it was our own fault that the city laid a line at all. I replied perhaps that was so, but that we were not willing to put up $50,000 to buy up those who were booming the project for selfish ends.

"'But,' my friend said, 'it would have paid you to have done so.'

"'Yes,' I replied, 'it would have paid the city much better if it had never gone into the project.'

"One thing is certain," he concluded. "I have no more money that will go into gas plants."

Mr. Foster says he has been so busy lately that he has not had time to learn much of Ohio politics.

"Will you be a delegate-at-large to the republican convention?" he was asked.

"Oh, no, I think not. I am not a candidate, and it would place me in a rather delicate position if I went to the convention."

"Who do you think, Governor, will be the republican nominee for the presidency?"

"Oh, Harrison, without a doubt. I don't think he will have any opposition."

"What of Blaine and McKinley?"

"Blaine has absolutely declined, and McKinley is not a candidate. I understand."

"Honestly, do you think Harrison can beat Cleveland?"

"Do I think it?" he laughed. "Why, of course he can; beat him with hands down. What a question."

"What do you think of Hill as a presidential quantity?"

"Dave Hill is not a possibility even. He went up like a rocket, as they say, and came down like a stick. No, he is not a presidential quantity at all."

"Can the republicans, do you think, carry New York if Harrison is nominated?"

"I don't see why not. They have carried it twice before and there is no reason why they cannot do it again."

"What do you think of a western man for a democratic nominee?"

"Well, that depends. He must be sound on the silver question. The east particularly will stand no foolishness on that important question. It will be hard to get a western democrat who is in accord with his eastern brethren on the silver question."

"Governor, it has been stated that you went to Europe in the interests of this government relative to an international monetary conference."

"Yes, I know, but I went to Europe for my health. While in England I accidentally talked with Mr. Goschen and other prominent financiers on the subject."

"It is stated that the call for that conference is about ready to be issued."

"Where did you see that," he asked, suddenly wheeling around in his chair. "Have you seen it within a day or two."

"Well, I have read it or heard it—something. Is there any truth in it?"

The governor thought a moment, and then replied

"I am not at liberty to say anything about it just at present. It is but fair to say, however, that if the result will be as I hope much of the credit must be given to Mr. Lincoln, our minister to England."

"What will be the plan or scope of the enterprise?"

"O, that I can say but little. The conference will be composed of representatives of all the principal nations of the world and I have hopes that it will result in much for all interested."

"Had your trip to England, governor, anything to do with the Bering Sea troubles?"

"No. Nothing officially. I spoke on the subject with many prominent Englishmen in a casual way, but nothing more."

"From what you saw during your visit to England would you say that labor is much better off here than there?"

"Labor is infinitely better off here. By the way, the McKinley bill has closed down numerous industries there and Bill McKinley is the most detested and most unpopular man in England."

"And Gladstone, I presume, the most popular."

"Yes, Gladstone is very popular. I heard him speak. It was field day in the house and I listened with much interest to Gladstone, Balfour, Labouchere, Dillon, and O'Brien—they are among the best speakers in the house of commons."

Mr. Foster says he thinks his health was improved by the trip, but he looks far from a well man yet.

NORWALK REPUBLICANS.

Norwalk, O., April 20.—(Special)—At the last election the republicans gained control of the city council. They organized last night by electing George Simmons president, Sampson Gray vice-president, E. J. Bloxham chairman finance committee, George Simmons chairman street committee. Chas. Nenuo, democrat, city clerk, holds over next year.

THEY WON A GAME.

Bad Playing by Indianapolis Allows Toledo to Score a Victory.

Errors on the part of Indianapolis gave Toledo a game yesterday by a score of 5 to 4, with the hits against her 9 to 4. Both Clarke and Pears were in the box for Toledo, and Sullivan pitched for Indianapolis. Only 500 people saw the game, which is not a very good indication that Indianapolis is going to prove a good ball town. Columbus was defeated by Milwaukee by a score of 3 to 2. The Toledo score follows:

WILL HUNT FOR THE GOLD

Secret of the French Invasion of Dahomey.

Buried Treasures the Object of the War.

Millions of Francs Have Been Hoarded Away and They Would Come in Handy at This Time.

London, April 20.—The Globe to-day publishes a letter from a correspondent giving an explanation of the preparations now being made by France for a war upon Dahomey.

It will be noticed, however, that this letter does not bear out the semi-official statements heretofore made that France has no intention whatever of conducting military operations in the interior of Dahomey, confining herself solely to defending her possessions in the Bight of Ben Porto Novo and Kotonou.

The Globe's correspondent says that an immense treasure, the accumulation of upwards of two centuries, is buried in Abomey, the capital of Dahomey. Allowing largely for exaggerations, this treasure, the writer declares, is said to be worth a sum equivalent of 500,000,000 francs. It is known that the successive kings of Dahomey have buried vast quantities of bullion within the precincts of the palace in a number of pits, ten or more of which are said to contain gold and silver to the amount of several millions of francs each.

Authentic reports of the existence of this treasure reached the French through missionaries and traders, and this readily accounts for the eagerness displayed by the French to capture Abomey. The attempt, the correspondent says, has been postponed for various reasons, but now that the French senate and chamber of deputies have voted a credit for the purpose, preparations will be made in earnest for a march on Dahomey.

The French parliament, a few days ago, voted over 3,000,000 francs for the purpose of sending re-inforcements to Porto Novo, and orders were issued by the minister of marine for a French cruiser at Montevido to at once proceed to the gold coast and join the warships already there. Troops were ordered to proceed from St. Louis, Zenegal, to re-inforce the garrison at Porto Novo, and much activity was displayed in military circles.

An air of probability is given to the Globe's correspondent's statement by the fact that, although King Behanzein and his forces who were said to be threatening the French settlements had withdrawn northward, there was no cessation of military preparations, and they are now being pushed forward with all possible speed. It may be that the French imagination has been excited by the stories of vast treasures in the Dahomeyan capital, and that under pretense of punishing King Behanzein for his many crimes against civilization, particularly his slave-hunting raids, France will seize upon it and at the same time cut short the career of the despot, whose murders of helpless victims cry aloud for vengeance.

SEVERE DROUTH.

A Hard Year Staring Texas Farmers in the Face.

San Antonio, Tex., April 20.—For three years the counties of Starr, Hidalgo, Porticas, Zapata, Mexico and Duvall have been subjected to a drouth of such severity as to render the products of the necessaries of life impossible.

The season for planting has passed, and early crops having been killed by frost there is no hope for relief unless summer rains should secure a light fall crop. The loss on cattle, the principal industry of this section, is estimated at 80 per cent., and in Nueces county alone, 60,000 head have died.

The famine district contains a population estimated at 20,000 people, and probably one-fourth of this number require assistance. The people have issued an appeal to the public for help.

SEISMIC DISTURBANCES

The Pacific Coast Badly Shaken Up.

The Earth's Interior Has Boiled Over.

Many Towns in the Valley Greatly Damaged—Reports from all Places Affected.

San Francisco, April 20.—The heaviest earthquake experienced in California since 1868 occurred shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The country within 200 miles of San Francisco was visited by a shock which varied in intensity at different points.

In this city a number of large buildings trembled perceptibly, but the only one to sustain damage was the old church building which until lately had been occupied by the academy of sciences and the front wall of which gave way, tearing away the balconies.

The town of Vacaville, situated in the heart of the beautiful Vaca valley, 65 miles from San Francisco, was the center of the seismic disturbance.

Vacaville is a town of 2,700 population and on its main street were a number of brick buildings. They were all either badly damaged or totally destroyed, as well as a number of brick residences in the town and vicinity. Many of the walls fell outward into the street, which was filled with debris, but which workmen at once began to clear away.

Many of the walls were of a frail character and succumbed easily to the shock. Very slight damage occurred to frame houses. The only person in Vacaville or vicinity who was reported to be seriously injured was Rev. O. O. Felkner of San Jose, who was struck by falling debris and sustained severe cuts and bruises. Several persons had narrow escapes from injury.

Dixon and Winters, town of about 1,000 inhabitants, located respectively northeast and northwest of Vacaville and within a few miles of the latter place, were also the scenes of considerable destruction. The Masonic hall at Dixon, a two-story brick block, was ruined and its falling walls shattered the two adjoining houses. A fire which broke out among the ruins caused some damage at Winters, but the danger was lessened by an abundant water supply. The house of John Thiffel, between Vacaville and Winters, was destroyed by fire caused by an overturned lamp, the occupants barely escaping with their lives.

At Winters the inhabitants were for a time panic-stricken owing to the severity of the shock. Forty guests were in the two-story Bliss hotel at Winters, the walls of which collapsed and the fact that no one was injured by the caving of the walls was remarkable. Old and new brick school houses and several new brick houses at Winters were cracked and wrenched from their foundations.

Three miles west of the town an acre of ground slid into the creek and small fissures were made in the country road. Several great boulders were thrown from the hillside at points of the Berreisso road near Winters, blocking the roadway. Considerable damage was done to isolated farm buildings, but no serious personal injuries are reported.

The town of Monticello, 17 miles from Winters, was at first reported totally demolished, but a gentleman arrived from there late this afternoon and reported the damage nominal. The losses at Vacaville, owing to the destruction of buildings and other property, is estimated at $100,000; at Dixon, $50,000, and at Winters nearly $100,000.

Elmira, Fairfield, Santarosa, Woodland, Davisville and Benicia report windows and crockery broken and a number of chimneys overturned. Some 30 or 40 towns report trifling damages, though all accounts agree in placing the intensity of the shock as greater than of any recent years.

The number of shocks felt differed at various places. At some points only one shock was registered, while at others two and even more occurred. The vibrations extended from north to south and from east to west. The single shock is described as being most intense; vibrations where more than one shock occurred becoming confused.

A strange cross of fruits is reported from Baltimore. A fruit merchant of that city bought some apples and noticed one of a peculiar appearance. On investigation it seemed to have the texture and appearance of an apple, but inside it had the kernel of a peach, and the flavor of the fruit was similar to a peach.

Tells of His Fearful Sufferings After Gastric Fever and His Cure by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

All who know Mr. W. D. Wentz give him the best of recommendations for honesty and integrity. For many years he has worked for Mr. D. P. Wilson, the harness maker and member of the Geneva Board of Health. He says:

"I was taken sick last October with gastric fever and my chance for recovery was considered almost hopeless. After 7 weeks the fever slowly left me, but I could not eat the simplest food without terrible distress. It seemed that I had recovered from the fever to

Die of Starvation

I took pepsin compounds, bismuth, charcoal, cod liver oil and malt until my physician confessed that his skill was about exhausted and he did not know what else to try. Everything I took seemed like pouring melted lead into my stomach. I happened to think I had part of a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla that had been in the house for two or three years, that I found had benefited me previously for dyspepsia. I began taking it and soon began to feel better. I have now taken a little over two bottles and can truthfully say I feel well again and can eat anything without distressing me, even to which I have been unable to touch for years. The English language does not contain words enough to permit me to express the praise I would like to give to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. WENTZ, 18½ Castle St., Geneva, N. Y.

TORTURING ECZEMA

No Less Than Five Physicians Consulted. Their Combined Wisdom Followed Without Benefit.

I am sixty-six years old. In August, 1889, was troubled with the peculiar skin disease to which people of my age are subject, known among medical men as eczema. Its first appearance was near the ankles. It rapidly extended over the lower extremities until my legs were nearly one raw sore; from legs the trouble extended across the hips, shoulders and the entire length of the arms, the legs and arms greatly swollen with an itching, burning pain, without cessation. Although the best medical advice attainable was employed, no less than five physicians of the place being consulted and the prescriptions being the result of their combined wisdom, the disease, though apparently checked, would recur in a few days as bad as ever; during its progress my weight fell away about twenty-five pounds. As an experiment I began the use of CUTICURA, following the simple and plain instructions given with the REMEDIES, and in four weeks found myself well, with skin soft and natural in color, the itching and pain entirely relieved. An April 20th, 1653, the Parliament which sent Charles the First to the block was dispersed by Cromwell.

He entered the House of Commons at the head of a company of Muskateers and concluded a speech to the members by bidding them be gone. When the chamber was empty, he locked the door, putting the key in his pocket. After that he had things pretty much his own way.

WILL EXCURT TO CHICAGO.

A Committee of Salesmen to Arrange for the Event.

The Toledo Salesmen's association met last night and appointed a committee to report on the advisability of giving an excursion to Chicago, leaving Toledo on Saturday night and returning Sunday night.

The association is in a flourishing condition financially and the proposed trip would undoubtedly be a pleasant one.

BUILDINGS TO GO UP.

Permits Issued by the City Clerk This Morning.

Building permits have been issued to M. Murphy for three frame dwellings on Washington street, to cost $600 each: to F. T. Becker for a $650 frame dwelling on Berry street; G. R. Schluter, for a $1,000 frame dwelling on the corner of Boalt and Field avenues, and to I. Schragenheim for a $2,000 frame dwelling on Washington street.

CYCLERS DINE

With Mr. Frank W. Thomas at the Hamilton.

Last evening Mr. F. W. Thomas tendered a dinner to the trustees and road officers of the Toledo Cycling club at the Hotel Hamilton. A rare menu was discussed, and with social converse, etc., a most delightful time was enjoyed. Mr. Thomas had printed a neat souvenir of the occasion, which was much appreciated. He proved himself a pleasant host.

RAILWAY CLERKS' SOCIAL.

Fourth Complimentary Hop at Friendship Hall Monday Night.

The railway clerks give the fourth complimentary hop and musical Monday evening, April 25, at Friendship hall. The entertainment is strictly invitational, and parties who are not recommended by members will not be admitted. The committee in charge are H. F. Ruppel, J. C. Mullen, R. M. Conlisk and J. E. Connell, and as they have restricted the invitations the hall will not be crowded, so those who attend may expect a good time. The dancing will close at 1 o'clock.

IN CRIMINAL COURT.

Business Being Rushed—Two Prisoners Found Guilty.

Two cases were disposed of in criminal court to-day and yesterday.

The jury in the case of the state against Charles McCoy last evening reported a verdict of guilty of assault after deliberation all day. It was evidently a compromise conclusion.

The case against Harry Hoffer, charged with obtaining goods on false pretense, was concluded this morning and the jury, after deliberating about fifteen minutes, returned a verdict of guilty as charged.

PETITION IN ERROR

In the Street Railroad Conspiracy Case Filed in Common Pleas Court.

A petition in error in the case of the Toledo Electric Street Railway company against the Consolidated Street Railway company was filed in common pleas court to-day. This is the conspiracy case wherein the Robisons sue the Consolidated for $250,000 damages. The case was dismissed in common pleas court. The petition alleges that the court erred in striking out certain pleadings and in dismissing the case.

GENERAL PALMER.

Gen. John Palmer, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, is at the Boody, en route from Ann Arbor to his home in Albany.

The commander-in-chief, speaking this afternoon of the Grand Army, said it was never in better condition. Its course is onward and upward, and it continues to flourish and prosper.

Gen. Palmer is the guest of Gen. P. H. Dowling, and will leave this afternoon for the east.

HOME AID ASSOCIATION.

Interesting Meeting Held in Odd Fellows' Hall.

The Home Aid association held its regular meeting at Odd Fellows' temple last night, initiated four new members, and received applications from several who desire to join.

The association is growing rapidly in membership, and interest.

At the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday evening, May 3, Dr. C. G. Clark will give an interesting talk on his recent travels through the west, taking for his subject, "What I Saw in Utah."

THE WORLD'S FAIR CLUB

Composed of Toledo Workingmen Organized Last Evening.

Last evening the Toledo World's Fair club, reference to which has been made in the Bee heretofore, was organized with 21 charter members.

J. N. Redmond was elected president, Peter Cripps, secretary; Hugh O'Reilly, treasurer, and John J. Kessler, trustee. The latter gave a bond of $300.

The object of the club has already been given in these columns. Every workingman can join the club on the payment of 25 cents a week. In May of 1893 the members of the club will visit the World's fair in a body, the expenses to be defrayed by the dues thus collected.

The next meeting will be held at Hugh O'Reilly's, Lagrange street, May 6.

NEW KIND OF GYMNASTICS

Advised—Calls Out Some Toledo Talent.

In one of Edmund Russell's lectures he advises those who are become hardened and stiffened beyond natural relaxation through the accumulating and hoarding of wealth, or, as he expresses it, the "pinching of the pocketbook," to begin their gymnastics by opening the window every morning and tossing out a nickel, not looking to see what becomes of it. If the tension is still too great, for the next lesson, toss out silver dollars successively. Cultivate spiritual generosity, then the language of the body can be improved. A Toledo lady who heard this sent the lecturer the following rhymed rejoinder:

I'm watching beneath your window
To catch the five cents' as they fall;
I've always believed in gymnastics,
But this is the dearest of all.

Keep it up, keep it up, oh my darling,
I'd try silver dollars, too;
As long as you're true to this exercise
My heart will be true to you.

DEATH OF DR. A. P. MILLER

In New York—Once a Well Known Toledoan.

Mr. J. Cooper Price this morning received a letter from his daughter, Miss Nina, announcing the death of Dr. A. P. Miller, at St. Luke's hospital, New York, from pyemia. About a week ago Mr. Price received a lengthy communication from Dr. E. B. Grannes, of the Church union, informing him of the condition of Dr. Miller, who had been suffering from bodily ailment for some time, and was without the necessary means to secure treatment. Dr. Grannes aided, as far as possible, and secured his admission to the hospital. Mr. Price at once wrote to his daughter to make inquiry as to the situation, and the reply this morning conveys the sad intelligence noted above. He entered the hospital March 21 and died April 9. It is learned with regret that he died in abject poverty. Mrs. Miller, with the children, have taken up their home at Chillicothe.

Dr. Miller was at one time a prominent and well-to-do Toledoan, and a joint owner of the Blade with the late D. R. Locke. For years he was the superintendent of St. Paul's M. E. Sunday school.

A DELICATE OPERATION

Successfully Performed—Friends of Little Alice Tobey Hopeful.

Six weeks or so ago, Alice, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Tobey, took severe cold which resulted in inflammation of the internal ear. The drum was ruptured and an abscess formed. The child has been a patient sufferer, but medical skill seemed unable to help her without the assistance of a surgical operation to relieve the abscess and prevent blood poisoning. Monday last Dr. Frothingham, of Detroit and Ann Arbor, was summoned and the delicate operation of cutting through the bone and reaching the diseased portion was performed and the collected pus removed. The little sufferer was very much prostrated yesterday. To-day we are glad to report a subsidence of fever and great relief from pain. She seems stronger and watchful friends are hopeful of her recovery. The operation is similar to the one performed on Roscoe Conkling and for the same trouble, but too late to arrest the effect of the poison which had permeated his system. Many sympathizing friends will hope to hear of continued and rapid improvement in the case of little Alice.

DID NOT ACCEPT.

The Conference Between Boss Painters and Men Failed.

The proposition made by the Master Painters' association through its committee yesterday was as follows: The men to return to work at the old rate until July 1, after which the employers would grant a raise of 25 per cent. In other words, the union men who now get $2 would after July 1 get $2.25; those now receiving $2.25 would get $2.50.

The union met and received this proposition from its committee to the conference, and rejected it without discussion, by a unanimous vote.

The position now is that the boss painters will refuse any compromise and will employ non-union men. They say that the men for whom the union stands out are not worth $2.50, and they (the bosses) will never pay it. The union men stand firm for their original proposition, a scale in which the minimum wage will be $2.50.

The union is supplying men to all employers who have signed the scale. The members of the association are hiring non-union men, and the union men are trying to get them not to work. So the merry war goes on.

THE SECOND DAY SESSION

Of the Annual Meeting of the Toledo Congregational Conference.

This was the second and last day of the session of the Toledo Congregational Conference for this year. The meetings were held in the Lagrange street church. The following order of exercises was observed this morning and afternoon:

9:00—Devotional exercises—Rev. L. Frink, Toledo. 9:10—Reports from the churches. 10:30—Paper—The Saloon or Women in our Public Schools. Which—Mrs. S. E. Bartlett, East Toledo. Discussion. 11:15—Paper—Church Poverty. Its Cause and Cure—E. H. Rhoades, Esq., Toledo. Discussion.

Wednesday afternoon. 2:00—Devotional exercises—Rev. C. B Shear, Plain. 2:30—Primary Sunday School Work—Mrs. McGregor, Mrs. Dr. Anderson, Toledo. 3:15—Woman's Missionary Union—Conducted by the conference directors. Addresses by the state secretaries and others. 4:30—Business. Recess.

This evening a praise service will be conducted from 7 to 7:30 by Rev. D. D. Davies, of Findlay, and papers by Rev. Dr. Bacon on "The Demand for the Union of Christians" and by Rev. D. M. Fisk on "Raising Youth for the Ministry" will follow.

DISTRICT 72

Of the Knights of Labor Held Its Quarterly Meeting.

The April meeting of D. A. 72, Knights of Labor, was held in Clarke's hall today, with delegates in attendance from Toledo, Tiffin, Fostoria, Findlay, Sandusky, Bowling Green, Liberty Center and Napoleon.

Reports of officers showed the income for the quarter had exceeded the expenses by over $50. As the dues to the district from its locals was reduced last quarter this financial showing is very encouraging. The increased receipts are from increased membership, which is also very satisfying to the order. New locals were organized during the quarter at Findlay and at Tiffin, and these cities now have three local assemblies each.

The afternoon session was devoted to new business, and the only part of the proceedings made public is that several propositions for the observance of Labor day were submitted, and these will be referred to the local assemblies to be voted on. At the July meeting the delegates will report for the locals, and the plan receiving the largest number of votes will be adopted. The delegate to the general assembly which meets in St. Louis next November will also be chosen at the July meeting. This will be the next meeting of the district, and will be held on the third Wednesday of that month.

WILL IT BE JUDGE SCOTT?

A Toledo Lawyer Who May Enter the Race for Supreme Judge.

It is almost certain Lucas county will present a candidate for supreme court judge at the republican convention in Cleveland next week. Since the passage of the McConica bill increasing the number of judges, friends of Hon. Alex. W. Scott, of Doyle, Scott & Lewis, have been pressing him to allow the use of his name, and it is altogether likely that he will consent, in which event he will undoubtedly have a large following, as Mr. Scott is well known throughout the state.

There are a number of candidates springing up for the place, including Judge Burket, of Findlay, but the selection of Mr. Scott would be gratifying to his friends, and if a republican must occupy the seat, of course Lucas county residents would prefer to see one of their fellow-citizens enjoy the distinction.

THE ISABELLA CIRCLE.

The First Reading Circle of the Isabella association in Toledo, met with Mrs. Mary Bills, Erie street, yesterday afternoon, some forty ladies being present.

Secretary Stevens read a letter from Mrs. Segur, in regard to the location of the Isabella pavilion outside the World's fair grounds, but near them, and also other communications on the same subject.

On motion the date of the next meeting was set for the third Monday in May, and the meeting will be held with Mrs. Sykes, wife of the rector of Calvary church, at their residence, 550 Segur avenue.

Mrs. Sykes will read the paper, which will be upon "De Sota and His Discoveries."

The circle then listened to an able and very instructive paper by Mrs. James Melvin, on "The Voyages and Discoveries of Cortez, and the Settlement of Chile and Peru."

Before adjournment a motion prevailed that Mrs. Segur, who is a vice president of the Isabella national association for this congressional district, be requested to write the board of the association and express the feeling of the members of the association in this district that the grounds for the pavilion should be immediately secured, and their location so explicitly described that those who are soliciting membership in the association may know to a certainty what the advantages are to be derived.

NEAT THINGS SAID

About Dress in Its Relation to the Personality of the Wearer.

The Boody house parlor was crowded with interested women yesterday afternoon to be entertained and instructed by a discussion of the important subject of "Dress." Mr. Edmund Russell applies the Delsartean principles of expression of the body to dress, in the most artistic and intelligent manner. Dress is for three purposes: covering, ornamentation and expression. We dress the human figure as we do a dummy. We squeeze and twist out of it all grace, spontaniety and individuality. We imprison our waists, our necks, our feet and our hands until there is no action possible, but a jerk of the head called a bow which means nothing at all and cannot, by any possibility take in more than one person. Colors, fabrics and adaptation were taken into consideration. Shiny black satin always reminds Mr. Russell of "stove polish." Black may make the complexion appear a shade whiter by contrast, but it accentuates every shadow, line and wrinkle of the face. He discoursed of jewels. Buy jewels with an eye to their relative value, not to furnish the jewel case with a variety of odd specimens. As a diamond increases in size it diminishes in beauty. Some women wear diamonds not to enhance their charms, but to advertise how successful their husbands have been in business. The talk was replete with fine artistic thoughts presented in a thoroughly educational way. To-morrow afternoon at 3:30, the topic will be House Decoration, a subject on which nearly every householder needs guidance and instruction.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSE.

An Extra Lecture Before the Toledo Classes on April 23.

Mr. Halford J. Mackinder, M. A., reader in geography to the University of Oxford, and staff lecturer for the Oxford University Extension, is in this country under an engagement with the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching.

Mr. Mackinder has the honor of being the first to fill the office of readership in Geography to the University of Oxford, an office established by the university through the influence of the Royal Geographical society, of which Mr. Mackinder is a distinguished member, as a recognition of the great impetus which he has given to the teaching of geography throughout all England. But this is only one of the many honors showered upon Mr. Mackinder. He had a distinguished career as an undergraduate. He was elected to an open junior studentship at Christ Church college in 1880, graduated with honors in natural science and history in 1883 and 1884. In the latter year he obtained the Burdett-Coutts university scholarship. As secretary, treasurer and president successively of the Union Debating society, and as president of the Junior Scientific club, Mr. Mackinder made a marked impression both by his great administrative powers and by his impressive oratory.

In 1886 he was called to the bar at the Inner Temple. The next year he took his degree of master of arts and in the same year was appointed to the readership in geography of the Oxford university. The term "reader" is, in this sense, unfamiliar to Americans. A "reader" is a university and not a college officer. He is appointed by, and lectures to, the whole university, and ranks with the professors, being a professor in all but name. At Oxford and Cambridge, college teachers are not called professors, though at local colleges they are so called. Mr. Mackinder has been remarkably successful in the discharge of his university duties and is rapidly bringing geography to the front, especially in its relation to historical studies in the university. In 1887 Mr. Mackinder and Mr. Hudson Shaw were made the first staff extension lecturers by the Oxford University Extension and have made wide reputations in this field. The lectures by Mr. Mackinder at the Oxford summer meeting last August were among the most brilliant of the entire session. He has a pleasing presence, a good voice, a concise and forcible style. Mastery of his subject appears in every utterance. His lectures are scholarly, yet so simply worded as to be readily comprehensible by the entire audience. The extension courses to be given in this country by Mr. Mackinder will be rare treats to all lovers of history.

The Toledo Society for University Extension has secured Mr. Mackinder for a lecture on the "Origin of Our Civilization," for next Saturday evening at Memorial hall. His lecture will be followed by a discourse upon University Extension, its present status in this country and England and its probable future. This lecture will be of great interest to all who are so fortunate as to hear it. Tickets may be obtained at the store of Brown, Eager & Hull and at the High School building; also at the door on the evening of the lecture.

We have a large assortment of exclusive designs in Challies, which must be seen to be appreciated.

BURNED HER CLOTHING.

Lima, O., April 20.—Miss Ida Turner, who is visiting her cousin in this city, had a narrow escape from a frightful death.

While passing the open stove her tea gown caught fire. Jason Limison, with whom Miss Turner is visiting, extinguished the burning fabric and was severely burned about the hands.

KILLED IN THE RUSH.

The Fatalities are Beginning to be Reported.

A Child Falls Out of a Wagon and I Trampled to Death—Several Persons Reported Shot

Kansas City, April 20.—A special from Higgins, Tex., says: "A report has reached here that in an altercation between a Cheyenne Indian and a man who tried to settle on the Indian's claim, the white man was shot dead. Their names cannot be ascertained."

Kansas City, April 20.—Reports reaching here from the newly opened Indian lands show that there were several fatalities during the grand rush by the homeseekers and boomers. In a fight over lots in the county seat of "F" county one man is reported as shot dead, while two others were severely wounded.

El Reno reports that a child was thrown out of a wagon and killed by the following crowd just after the people left the line at that place.

If republicans are bound to keep the silver question to the fore there is dissension enough in their own ranks to make things interesting.

The Boston Globe is prepared to accept the nominee of the Chicago convention, but it is careful not to let a day go by without informing the country that Massachusetts has a favorite son named William Eustis Russell.

If Lo is to become a voting citizen his troubles are over. He will not go shivering or hungry any more. He comes under the benign provision of the home (political) market, and his services will be in demand—light services for ready wage. The question is, will he be as manageable as his brother of another color?

Those who sigh in vain for the balmy airs and bloomy fields of our American Italy may console themselves with thinking of their possible escape from earthquakes, through the kind perversity of fate. Quakes that level brick blocks and pitch the foot-hill boulders into the rivers are quite a discourager to the serene enjoyment of life.

Secretary Foster is very reticent and profusely so at this stage of it, concerning the negotiations between this country and England on the subject of an international money conference. It is not, however, denied that such a correspondence is being held, and it is greatly to be hoped the negotiations will end in an agreement to confer.

Just how "protection insures competition and reduces prices to consumers" is shown by the multiplication of trusts which fix prices of goods to suit their own ideas. Every new trust which has arisen to menace the rights of the people embraces articles on the McKinley schedule. If results prove anything these combinations which dominate trade prove who gets the governmental protection.

Now it is Bulgaria's demand for independence that threatens to pricipitate that "great European war." The same cry is raised on every event of movement on that continent, and frequently over affairs in themselves insignificant. In truth the great powers of Europe appear to be in a temper which leads them to show their teeth to one another on every occasion, but each hesitates to take the final step that shall plunge all in a war the end of which none can foresee.

Senator Pettigrew, and his confreres, should keep track of governmental expenditures. He recently introduced a bill, which passed the senate, for an appropriation to pay the Indian scouts employed by Gen. Sully in 1864. The facts are that ten thousand dollars was paid them in 1869 and seventy-five dollars apiece, additional, in 1871, and Gen. Sully fixed the proper amount. That the Indian scouts were chiefly white blood may account for the pushing of the claim, periodically, and the ability to collect on it withing twenty-eight years' time. If the wise senators are out of work to the extent thus indicated, they would better go home.

The neatest bit of irony perpetrated within the last forty-eight hours was the speech of Theodore Roosevelt before the Massachusetts Republican club. He sets himself the task for next fall, to hinder and, so far as he may be able (with the help of other republicans?), to abolish political assessments. He concluded by saying that "the record made by this republican administration and the late republican congress entitles the party to the gratitude of the American people." The proverbial animal skin used on this occasion was not ample enough to cover the betraying ears. As a masquerader Mr. Roosevelt is not a success.

Citizens generally will sanction the appointment of Dr. Tobey to his old position as superintendent of the Toledo Insane Asylum. Not because he is a republican, and is not a democrat, but because it is known that he is able to perform satisfactorily the complex duties that the position imposes. Dr. and Mrs. Tupper retire from the institution, meriting and receiving the good will and wishes of all. They have done faithful and efficient work, and in their case, as in the case of their predecessor, the Bee deprecated a change. But as republicans insist upon carrying their partisan politics into such institutions, the wish is that all appointments could be made with the discrimination that places Dr. Tobey in his old office.

The signs of the times point to a twenty-cent natural gas rate in Toledo. When considering the matter it will be well to remember that if pigheadedness had not prevailed in the council two years ago we might now be enjoying our gas on a five-year low-rate contract. But it is too late to "cry over spilled milk," the question now is the gas supply, and the Bee urges the city natural gas trustees to make an advance to whatever price the Northwestern people decide upon. There is business sense in this suggestion. Sentiment long since dropped out of the question. A twenty-cent rate would be cheaper than coal, and as for desirability of gas—well, go to Columbus or some other coal-blackened city and then come back to Toledo satisfied. An advance will be made and people may as well get ready for it.

MAJOR OVERMAN.

More Charges Are Being Prepared Against Him.

Cleveland, April 20.—The following telegram was received from Washington last night: "The officials of the war department still decline to give out anything relative to the new charges against Major Overman. That such charges are being prepared, there is no doubt. For weeks past officers have been engaged in a thorough examination of the major's reports and vouchers and for some days the acting judge advocate general of the army has been formulating the charges. Just what they are or when they will be made public is as yet purely a matter of conjecture. It seems to be generally understood that a new trial by court-martial will be ordered in the near future."

THE GREAT TRIUMVIRATE

Chester, Squire and Griffin in a Political Deal.

Chester for Secretary of State, Squire Gets a Pudding,

While Griffin Proposes Manipulating Lucas County for the Congressional Nomination—The Contract May Not Go Through.

J. J. Chester, of Columbus, W. J. Squire, and C. P. Griffin are the great triumvirate in Ohio republican politics.

A Columbus dispatch to the Bee briefly mentions the facts that these political worthies met recently in that city and perfected a deal that is novel from its very audacity.

These three manipulators of the political situation propose dividing the spoils among themselves and friends.

The scheme is this:

Chester is to be nominated for secretary of state on condition that Squire is made chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

If Chester is nominated he will, under old established rules, have power of naming whom he pleases.

Squire, on the other hand, agrees to throw the entire strength of the republican clubs to Chester. See?

Squire is already in the field, and is hustling around the state at a railroad pace.

Griffin's part in the deal is this: He will be nominated for congress through Squire's influence. Lucas county is to be turned out to grass and no Lucas county man will go to the republican national convention.

Jim Luckey, of Ottawa, and J. R. Hankey, of Bowling Green, are to be the delegates.

In return Luckey will give Griffin a full delegation from Ottawa at the congressional convention in this district and Hankey agrees to do ditto with the Wood county delegation.

It is a lovely combine. But will it work? There are republicans who say the contract cannot be carried out. It is a strong combination, just the same, as Squire has the pull in Lucas and he knows it.

UPPER SANDUSKY

Republicans Select Delegates to Several Conventions.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 20.—The republicans of this county met in delegate convention here and nominated the following ticket:

Treasurer, John R. Layton, of this city; commissioner, Amos Bixby, Carey; surveyor, O. E. Reynolds, of Richland township; and infirmary director, William Fallor, of Eden township.

The following delegates to the state convention were chosen: B. F. Smithe, Nevada; T. S. McClure, Carey; Robert Carey and L. W. Hull, of Upper Sandusky.

Alternates—H. B. Miller, Cyrus Sears, S. H. Hunt, and S. A. Cuneo.

UNION PACIFIC.

Sidney Dillon to be Retired and Hayes to Succeed Him.

New York, April 20.—President Sidney Dillon will be retired at the annual election of the Union Pacific Railway company, and unless obstacles present themselves which do not now appear, Captain Richard S. Hayes will be elected in his stead.

Messrs. Jay Gould and Russell Sage will be dropped from the board of directors and Mr. Dillon retained only as a concession to his long services to the company. These changes will be brought about by a combination of foreign holdings with American stockholders who desire a change of management.

BOUGHT THE TRACT.

The Dubois Estate Turned Over to the Pennsylvania.

Dubois, Pa., April 20.—A report is current here that the Pennsylvania Railroad company has bought the Dubois estate, comprising 28,000 acres of coal and timber land in Clearfield county for $17,000,000. John Dubois, who was made sole heir of the estate at the death of his uncle, is in Philadelphia, and the report cannot be verified.

The low grade of the Allegheny Valley railroad, now controlled by the Pennsylvania, runs through the tract from east to west. It is said the transfer will be made to individual stockholders of the Pennsylvania.

COL. DUDLEY.

Richmond, Ind., April 20.—Col. W. W. Dudley delivered an address here yesterday at the laying of the corner stone of an Episcopal church. This is Col. Dudley's old home, and here it was that the "blocks-of-five" scheme was hatched in his fertile brain. He will leave for the east to-day. Dudley refuses to talk politics further than to intimate that he will not work for Harrison's reelection in case the president is renominated. Those here who know Dudley best believe, however, that his opposition to Harrison is feigned.

So far as we have read history the like of this never occurred before. Dr. Parkhurst is the first minister of Christ who ever assisted at such a performance, got up at his instigation and expense. It lasted three-quarters of an hour or more, and during that time, he testifies: "I drank beer three times." The period of the possible usefulness of this man as a minister of the gospel is over. Out of mere decency he should retire from the observation of all men and women who preserve an atom of self-respect.—New York Sun.

THE SWEATING SYSTEM

Calls for Reform Methods and Fairer Laws—The Land Tax Theory.

To the Editor: In your issue of April 11 you have an editorial headed "An Evil System," and you proceed to give the results of an investigation made by a congressional committee whose mission it has been to look into what is known as the "sweating system" as carried on in the city of Chicago. You comment in some detail upon the facts brought to light through this junketing committee; you give figures showing the meager wages these poor victims are permitted to receive for their long hours of unremitting toil. Up to this point in your review of this "evil system" your words suggest that perhaps the government has become aroused to a sense of this crying injustice; that the strong arm of the state has at last lent a listening ear to the portentous murmurs of the white slave multitude. But you soon relieve us of our hopeful trend of thought by stating that the object of the government in dispatching this committee to Chicago was not for the purpose of ameliorating the condition of this unfortunate people, but rather a "business" trip in the interests of Boston merchants.

If the Arena, one of the leading magazines of the country (which is published in Boston), can be relied upon, that immaculate city may be trying to divert attention from its own cesspools of vice and wretchedness. It certainly is the old story of the "pot calling the kettle black."

But to return to your review of this deplorable condition of the working people. We find you conclude that "government" has no right to interfere in private business of this kind, and that the investigation, though made in behalf of private interests, has revealed a system that "will move the hearts of men to pity and protest." And then you ask, "Who can see the remedy?"

There are so many elements that enter into the existing conditions that are continually making the rich richer, and the poor poorer, that your question is far more easily asked than answered; and yet to what better or more laudable use could the Bee place its columns than to the discussion of a subject upon which the prosperity of the people and perhaps the existence of the government depend? Social conditions are not improving. Year by year the struggle for bread becomes more desperate with the masses. Labor and capital are no longer friends. The protectionist would tell us we want more protection, while the still, small voice within us is crying for freer access to the bounties of nature. A long stride in the right direction would be an end to class legislation, the right to buy and sell in the best market, and if right was might there would be no tribute exacted from the product of labor. Land alone should produce the revenue to maintain the government. All God's people should have free access to the soil. Equal opportunity would abolish involuntary poverty.

Findlay, O., April 19. L. B. B.

THE DOCK MEN ON STRIKE

The Columbus Wharf Workers Quit Work.

They Refuse to Work Unless Allowed to Wet the Coal Which in its Present Condition Suffocates and Blinds Them.

The coal heavers on the Columbus dock to the number of 260 went on strike this morning.

The cause of the strike is a novel one, and its settlement will depend a good deal on wind and weather.

The men say it is utterly impossible to shovel coal on account of the dust unless the coal is first watered.

Heretofore the men have employed one of their number to keep the coal wet, and this keeps down the dust. The shippers, however, have kicked to such an extent that the company was obliged to prohibit the custom of wetting the coal. The men were notified to this effect yesterday, and this morning they absolutely refused to go to work.

One of the men said to a Bee this morning: "It is impossible for a man to shovel coal and swallow that dust. Try it for five minutes. It fills ones nostrils, ears and mouth until it is practically impossible to breathe. It is the extreme of cruelty to ask men to work under such conditions. We ask nothing but what is fair and just."

Superintendent Carlin said to a Bee that the company was not to blame. "The shippers," he said, "absolutely refuse to have the coal wet, and what are we going to do about it?"

A good down pour of rain would help out matters, but as it looks now the trouble may continue for some time.

FOR THE WOMEN ONLY

Toledo Ladies Propose Erecting a Bakery

With a Newly Patented Invention That Will Turn Out 3,000 Loaves an Hour—Company Formed and Stock Subscribed.

Mrs. George B. Woodbridge, Summit street, is the chief projector in a proposed industry which promises to revolutionize the bakers. The project has been taken up by prominent ladies in the principal cities of the country. It is an offshoot of the temperance crusade.

The idea is to organize a company with a capital stock of $25,000 for the purpose of erecting and operating a bakery on a novel plan.

Mrs. Woodbridge has been at work quietly for several weeks, and secured about one-half of the proposed capital. Ladies only are admitted to membership, and members must be stockholders. The shares are $25 each, and over 30 ladies have already subscribed for anywhere from 5 to 25 shares each.

Some months ago an Indianapolis man named Brice patented a bread-baking apparatus that is guaranteed to turn out 3,000 loaves of bread an hour. Some ladies connected with the temperance movement in Chicago took the matter up and organized a company with a capital stock of $100,000.

The idea spread and at once steps were taken in New York, Boston, and other large cities to start bakeries under the system.

In Ohio Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo are already interested, and the work is being pushed.

A profit of 72 per cent is guaranteed and the prospectus is, indeed, very promising.

Mrs. Woodbridge has already secured enough subscriptions to organize the proposed company, and on her return from Topeka, Kan., where she is at present on business, the organization will be perfected.

ANOTHER REAL ESTATE DEAL

This Time Seven Acres of Unplatted Land Goes.

H. Cushing the Purchaser and Fifteen Thousand Dollars Changes Hands.

Toledo real estate is moving at a lively rate, and big sales are common occurrences.

Another deal was closed to-day whereby H. H. Cushing comes into possession of seven acres of Toledo property, purchased of Jerome H. Smith, of Cincinnati, for which he paid $15,000.

The land in question is bounded by Lawrence avenue, Collingwood avenue, Rosewood avenue and Detroit avenue. The tract will be platted and placed on the market at once.

DR. TOBEY IS THE MAN

Who Will Manage the Asylum for Next Two Years.

He is Unanimously Elected Superintendent, but Asks a Week's Time Before Deciding to Accept.

As intimated in the Bee yesterday, Dr. H. A. Tobey is the next superintendent of the Toledo insane asylum.

The board of trustees were all present when Hon. Charles Foster, president of the board, called the meeting to order shortly after 2 o'clock.

The members present were: Charles Foster; Dr. S. A. Baxter, Lima; C. P. Campbell, Tedrow; Parks Foster, Elyria, ex-Senator Wm. Geyser, Swanton.

The Messrs. Foster were not present in the forenoon, and the other members audited the bills and passed upon the monthly report. This was the work of the forenoon session.

Dr. Baxter, who acted as secretary, read the following:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the Toledo Asylum:

Gentlemen: Thanking you for the kindness, courtesy and confidence you have at all times extended, and not wishing in any degree to interfere with your official duties as a new organization, we desire to place in your hands, subject to your action, our resignation as superintendent and matron of this institution, only adding that such consideration as may be shown us will be fully appreciated. Very respectfully,

DR. AND MRS. C. E. TUPPER.

The resignation was accepted.

The next business was the election of officers. Chas. Foster was unanimously elected president and Dr. Baxter vice president.

Although Dr. Rorick, of Fulton, and Dr. Marshall, of Cleveland, were candidates for the position of superintendent, both recognized the fact that they were not in it if Dr. Tobey desired the place. Dr. Rorick graciously admitted this fact.

After half an hour's talk on the matter of appointing a superintendent a messenger was started off post haste for Dr. Tobey.

It was after 3 o'clock when Dr. Tobey arrived. He was unanimously tendered the position and President Foster, in a private chat, about convinced him that he should accept.

Dr. Tobey, however, asked for and was granted one week to decide. As an inducement to accept he will have the privilege of appointing all subordinate officers from steward down, such appointment, of course, subject to the confirmation of the board.

This practically closed the meteing. Dr. Baxter speaking with a Bee, said that Dr. Tobey would be the next superintendent.

"But he may not accept," the Bee man suggested.

"Oh, he will, he must. You just put it down that he will be the next superintendent of this asylum."

"Did Dr. Tupper present his resignation?"

"Yes, and it was accepted."

Mrs. Tobey will succeed Mrs. Tupper as matron and it is understood there will be a general clearing out of all the chief officers.

J. Hughes, of Findlay, is also a candidate for the position of steward and has strong backing, while quite a number of local republicans are opposing Kearns' appointment.

The republican members of the board evidently believe in the doctrine that to the victors belongs the spoils. Dr. Tupper retires gracefully, and both he and Mrs. Tupper have the best wishes of every one in the institution.

Dr. Tupper was unanimously elected the delegate from the board to the annual meeting of the American Association of Asylum Superintendents, to be held at Washington, May 6.

The Relief society of Trinity church entertained a large number of friends at supper last evening, from 6 to 8 o'clock, in the guild rooms. This pleasant occasion was planned for the purpose of allowing the rector, Rev. Charles Scadding, to become better acquainted with those present.

The Trinity flower mission, consisting of 20 young girls, entertained a large audience of friends last evening in the lecture-room of the church. The following tableaux were presented in a charming manner: 1, a recitation, "The Road to Heaven;" 2, "Sleeping Beauty;" 3, "Asking Blessing;" 4, "Laddie;" 5, "Rusty Culture;" 6, "City Culture;" 7, "Evening Prayer;" 8, "Village School in Disorder;" 9, "Simply to Thy Cross I Cling."

Maumee tent No. 9 gave its seventh annual party last evening at Pythian castle, which was a pleasant affair. At 12 o'clock supper was served. Tony Leon's orchestra furnished the music for the merry dancers. Following were the committees: Arrangements, Geo. H. Scott, M. Math, John O'Neil; reception, John Stolberg, S. M. Jones, Chas. A. Verdtriede, Ed Langel, J. Morganthaler, I. N. Fisher, Walter Pickens, A. F. Wendt; floor, E. A. Schinzel, Chas. Christman, Walter Ely, R. A. Saltonstahl, Fred Rausch, Geo. P. Marquardt.

Last evening at the Broadway M. E. church occurred the marriage of Miss Clara Crooks and J. W. Stark. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. J. H. Bothards. Miss Emily Vandeberg was bridesmaid and Mr. James Stark, cousin of the groom, best man. Miss Crook's Sunday school class acted as bridesmaids, this being a very pretty feature of the wedding. Miss Crooks is a very popular lady, and the many friends of the bride and groom will wish for them much happiness. They will take up their residence in East Toledo immediately.

A very pretty and quiet home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bramwell, of Superior street, last evening, when they gave their daughter Lillie in marriage to Mr George Hirth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Albritton, of Fremont, assisted by Rev. Dr. H. M. Bacon. The bride was becomingly attired in a grey costume, trimmed in chiffon, and carried pink roses. The happy couple will visit Chicago friends for a time, and upon their return to Toledo will be at home at 1633 Superior street.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Monroe Street Paving.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 9TH DAY OF MAY, 1892,

for improving Monroe street from Bancroft street to the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue, by paving the central thirty-six feet thereof, and from the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue to westerly city line the central forty feet thereof with Trinidad asphalt laid on a foundation of hydraulic cement concrete, together with the necessary grading, curbing, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for in an assessment upon the lots and lands benefited thereby, one-half in ten days after the confirmation of the assessment and the remainder in one year thereafter, and the same manner with the Toledo Consolidated Street Ry. Co., except the part in the street intersection, which will be paid in cash by the city of Toledo, ninety days after the completion and acceptance of the work.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of four hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council,

C. H. DURIAN, City Clerk.

THE CRY OF THE DREAMER.

I am tired of planning and toiling
In the crowded hives of men;
Heart-weary of building and spoiling,
And spoiling and building again.
And I long for the dear old river,
Where I dreamed my youth away,
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a toiler dies in a day.

I am sick of the showy seeming
Of life that is half a lie;
Of the faces lined with scheming
In the throng that hurries by.
From the sleepless thoughts' endeavor,
I would go where the children play;
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a thinker dies in a day.

I can feel no pride, but pity
For the burdens the rich endure;
There is nothing sweet in the city
But the patient lives of the poor.
Oh, the little hands too skilful,
And the child-mind choked with weeds!
The daughter's heart grown willful,
And the father's heart that bleeds!

No, no! from the street's rude bustle,
From trophies of mart and stage,
I would fly to the woods' low rustle
And the meadow's kindly page.
Let me dream as of old by the river,
And be loved for the dream alway;
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a toiler dies in a day.

The electric plant at the Virginius mine in Colorado, 12,500 feet above the sea level, has reduced the expenses of mining to a wonderful degree. The expense for coal formerly averaged $100 a day. The present power is furnished by the water obtained at Red Canon creek, four miles from the mine.

Compressed air is largely used as a transmitter of power in place of electricity. It is said that 10,000 horse-power can be transmitted through a 30-inch main for a distance of 20 miles with a loss of pressure of only 12 per cent. A system like this is to be used at the Niagara Falls power plant.

At a memorial concert in Paris last month the distinguished violinist, Desjardins, played a posthumous work by Vieuxtemps, said to have been hitherto entirely unknown, and to be an extremely effective composition. Etelka Gerster has recently emerged from her retirement to give two concerts in Berlin, at which the magic of her name drew large audiences and elicited from them much applause. The whole interior of Newfoundland is an unknown territory. Only one white man has ever made the journey from east to west, a Mr. Cormack, who accomplished the feat in 1829. Consequently, there is no map of Newfoundland extant which is in any degree reliable. It is a very curious fact that a valuable tract of land, with coal, iron and silver in its bowels, and perfectly accessible to the explorers, should remain so long unknown.

At Grenoble, France, 1,200,000 dozen pairs of gloves are manufactured annually. This represents a value of $7,200,000, and gives employment to 25,000 workpeople of both sexes. There are 4,000 men and 21,000 women residing in a rayon of 38 miles around Grenoble who live by this work. Glovemaking is one of the few callings open to female labor in which women can earn respectable wages without abandoning husbands, homes and little ones.

Many watches make five beats per second, 300 each minute, 18,000 every hour, or 432,000 per day. Thus it will be seen that half a dozen turns of the key once a day, taking up but a few seconds of time, stores up a modicum of power in the spring which is cut up into nearly 1,000,000 of beats. If we multiply the daily beats by 365 1-4, the number of days in a year, we find that the watch ticks 157,788,000 times while the earth is making one annual trip around the sun.

Girls who sew for a living often suffer soreness in what is sometimes called the thimble finger, and serious inflammation and swelling is often the result. No sewing girl or woman should let herself be tempted by the low price of thimbles, which are composed of lead or something equally injurious. Silver or plated thimbles are very much the best and safest, and when these are too expensive a very good substitute can be found in a highly burnished steel thimble. For practical every-day use this latter kind is the most convenient, but pewter or lead should never be used, especially by people whose flesh is slow to heal after a scratch or cut.

FRIENDSHIP AMONG INDIANS

One of the many chivalrous features of the natural Indian life is the institution of friendship or brotherhood by which two young men became partners in pleasure and danger, in life and death, says the Philadelphia Press. Now, however, since the government has put an end to tribal wars, the compact will not carry such serious obligations as formerly.

Readers of Parkham will remember that at the massacre of Mackinaw a British trader was rescued by an Indian who had formally chosen him as his "friend" some time before in accordance with a dream, in which he was told that he was to have a white man for his "brother." Although the Englishman did not at the time understand the nature of the bond, the Indians held it in such sacred regard that they allowed Wawatam to lead the trader out from the crowd of savages who were butchering his comrades.

When a young Indian is about the age of 15, just verging on to manhood, he looks about to see which of his playmates he shall select to be his comrade through life in his games and pleasure excursions, at the dance, and on the warpath.

Those of us who were ever boys well know that at this age every boy has his comrade and confidant, for whom he has almost as warm a feeling as comes to him in after years for his sweetheart. Human nature is the same in an Indian camp.

That Indian is indeed an unfortunate youngster who has not his inseparable boy companion. But now he aspires to be a man and the bond between him and his friend must receive the stamp of formal recognition.

He selects the dearest of his possessions—the finest pony in his herd—and putting a lariat around his head he goes to his comrade and places the rope in his hand and says:

"My friend, I give you a pony; let us be friends."

The other boy takes the pony and puts it among his own horses. In a few days or weeks he makes a return gift, perhaps a fine rifle, to the donor, and the compact is sealed.

Thenceforth wherever one is the other is not far off.

At all tribal gatherings the young men will be found sitting or standing about in pairs, and when moving camp or out on the warpath each couple always keeps close together.

The young men frequently take advantage of a dance or other large public assembly to make a display of their generosity and affection toward each other.

I once attended a dance among the Sioux at which several fine horses were given away in this manner. Before the dance began the public crier took the stand in the center of the circle and in a loud voice announced that a certain young man was about to show his love for his friend by presenting him with a horse. During the proclamation the two young men stood side by side; the owner of the horse—a handsome white pony, with mane carefully braided—held the animal loosely by a lariat.

At the conclusion of the announcement the old man turned to the two and taking the lariat from the hand of the giver he gave it into the hand of the other, who then led the horse away. The other horses transferred on this occasion were represented by green sticks, which were handed over in the same way after each proclamation, to be redeemed with ponies after the dance.

As a further evidence of affection the young men sometimes formally exchange names. The announcement is made by the public crier, and presents accompany the transaction. From that time each is known in the tribe by the former name of his friend, and is never spoken of by his own original name. They always address each other simply as "My friend."

The gifts exchanged are always the things most dearly prized by the owner. Among Indians there is no such thing as giving for the sake of appearances. Presents with them are made only as tokens of genuine affection, or in ratification of treaty agreements.

The entire property of a man belongs equally to his friend. In making collections among Indian tribes I have frequently found this to work to my advantage. As there is no regular business system among them, no fixed valuations except on ponies, they are apt to raise the price of an article according to the supposed eagerness of the buyer until the demand becomes extortionate.

On more than one occasion my Indian interpreter has gone to the purse of his "friend," who chanced to be the owner, and proffered him a reasonable price saying only: "You are my friend; I want it for this friend." In such a case, should no one be at home, he will take the thing without ceremony and arrange the matter with the owner afterward.

When a young man marries he acquires a right to the girl by making presents to the parents commensurate with the attractions of the maiden. If unable to satisfy the demands of her relatives, who are keen matchmakers, he goes in his extremity to his "friend" and lays the case before him and receives from him the necessary points. It must be explained that among the prairie tribes, who almost live on horseback, a pony is the standard of value, every well-to-do man having from 50 to 100 or more, rated at from $15 to $30 apiece.

On the warpath the two "friends" are pledged to stand by each other through every danger. Should one have his horse shot in the engagement, or be wounded so as to be unable to escape with the rest, his "friend" takes him upon his own horse and brings him away safely, or if hard pressed he faces about and makes a brave fight until both are killed together.

It corrects the bilious stomach, sweetens the breath and cleanses the furred tongue. Children as well as adults sometimes eat something that does not digest well, producing Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Restlessness, or Sleeplessness—a good dose of Regulator will give relief. So perfectly harmless is this remedy that it can be taken by the youngest infant or the most delicate person without injury, no matter what the condition of the system may be. It can do no harm if it does no good, but its reputation for 40 years proves it never fails in doing good.

DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,

Formerly of New York, now the Celebrated Examining Physicians of THE FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo

Dr. Ottman, Saturday, April 23.

Dr. France, Wednesday, May 11.

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnett House from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

The doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the State Incorporated with a Capital of $300,000.00.

DR. OTTMAN, the Celebrated Examining Specialist in Toledo

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, nervous debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important case and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, success has been marked, over two thirds of our patronage being ladies, old, young, married, single or. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but when possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

THE MINISTER'S WORD.

Equally Strong Statement From His Sunday School Scholar.

Interesting Letters That Need No Comment—They Both Tell Truth.

The following remarkable correspondence has been sent to this paper for publication by Rev. B. S. Crosby, pastor of the Christian church at Castile, says the Buffalo News.

Rev. Mr. Crosby expressed the belief that the letter from Miss F. and his reply would interest and benefit thousands.

The letter he received is as follows, omitting the young lady's name:

To Rev. B. S. Crosby:

Dear Sir:—I do not know what impels me to write to you except that you, too, are interested in the afflictions of humanity. I saw in a paper that you and your wife had found relief, and so I concluded to write you, as you said you would gladly answer anyone.

I was born in Cambridge, Mass. I was graduated from the Haverhill High school four years ago, since which time I have been in poor health. Not that I have been really ill, but ailing—a half way between sickness. I have been doctoring ever since I graduated, with different physicians. I am better in some ways, worse in others.

First I used to have a terrific ache at the base of the brain—at the medulla oblongata, and also up and down the spine, but that wore away and gave place to a stomach trouble which the doctor called dyspepsia. I took medicine and dieted for two years. Well, my stomach grew slightly better. But next my nerves began to trouble me, and then the doctor said I had nervous dyspepsia, and I have been taking medicine for that until the present time.

But, Brother Crosby, I don't get the help and strength that a young girl in her twenties ought to receive. I have taught school four terms, off and on. I like it dearly, and it is a struggle for me to give it up; but give it up I must, and duty to my Maker and myself tells me that I must act as well as pray.

I have a weak, languid feeling as though I could scarcely move unless I made a mighty effort. Some days I feel quite well, then again I cannot sit on my piano stool without feeling dizzy and as though in spite of myself I should fall off.

Let me sit in church, at divine service, and if I get conscious of self, the blood will rush to my head and it seems as though I should fly. I cannot sit still at such times, and what should be to me an hour of spiritual blessing is an hour of unrest. I am confident that it is my nerves, caused by overwork mentally.

Now, what is your candid opinion of that Paine's celery compound you used? Do you think it will help me?

Mama seems favorably inclined toward it, but you have used it and know the value of it.

Is the effect lasting? Or is it merely a stimulant, the effects wearing away as soon as you cease taking the medicine?

You are a stranger to me (in one sense), but we are both members of the same large family, and know you will be interested as such.

Thanking you for your interest in all who do not enjoy good health, of which I am one, I remain Yours sincerely,

K. F., Sandown, N. H.

Castile, N. Y., April 11, 1892.

Miss F., Sandown, N. H.:

It gives me great pleasure to answer your letter of inquiry about Paine's celery compound. First, from your description, I should say that Mrs. Crosby was about like yourself, and the compound cured her. When she began taking it she weighed 96 pounds; now she weighs 116 pounds, and we claim the compound did it.

Second, as for myself, the physicians said that I had a complication of ailments, but the most of them decided that it was lumbago and nervous prostration. One thing is certain, I was very badly off and suffered untold misery for a long time—so nervous I could not sleep, and many a night was obliged to sit up, for I had such severe pains I could not lie down. I sincerely believe had I not taken this medicine, I would not be alive to-day. I am now perfectly well, have no pain in my back, and my nerves are all right. When I began using Paine's celery compound I weighed 135, now I weigh 152.

Third, when I came here in September, one of the young ladies in my Bible class was very poorly with stomach trouble, in fact was sick in bed. She began taking Paine's celery compound through my influence, and now does most of the housework for six in the family.

I wish you would give it a thorough trial, for I think you will get relief. I consider it the best medicine ever made. I speak from what I know it has done for me and many others. I could write you pages, telling you what it has done for friends. I receive many letters of inquiry about it. I am not paid for answering these letters and have no interest in the business. I am simply trying to help humanity and I feel that while helping people by recommending the compound, I am only preaching the gospel with the pen, and doing unto others as I would wish to be done by.

Trusting that you will find relief and be spared yet many years, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

REV. B. S. CROSBY.

This remarkable correspondence must be of the greatest value and benefit to hundreds. Miss F. feelingly describes symptoms that are common to nearly everyone at this season. Rev. Mr. Crosby points out the remedy, and "does to others as he would wish to be done by." He knows a true strength-giver, and all who are weak, run down, and out of health, should follow his advice.

The renewing and invigorating power of this great compound is marvelous, and it holds, to-day, its true place in the esteem of physicians and the public, being universally acknowledged the best spring medicine in the world, unequaled for the cure of disease, and the imparting of strength.

MAGGIE MITCHELL TALKS

"Something about my new play, the Little Maverick," said that charming little woman, Maggie Mitchell, to a Bee this morning. "Certainly! Take an easy chair, please. When you came in I was reading a letter from a friend of mine who is living abroad, and it recalled an hour most pleasantly spent.

"I was walking up Regent street in London last summer when my friend said, 'Come with me and look at Dion Boucicault's house.'. We turned into New Burlington street from Regent, just where the quadrant makes a magnificent curve, and stopped before a dingy house at No. 16. The house was three stories high, the ground floor being occupied by a tailor, who was the owner of the premises. A magnificent stained glass door opened from the street, and after ringing an electric bell we were admitted. I shall never forget my sensations when I first looked around the silent rooms furnished in all the magnificence that the ultra-luxurious tastes of a Boucicault could suggest. The house was dim and moldy, while the atmosphere was close and unbearable; but I did not mind these drawbacks for I wanted to see how the great dramatist had lived. It was in this house, which he had furnished at the height of his career, that many of his successes had been conceived and carried out. Two hundred thousand dollars had been expended on its furnishings and decorations, yet six months after its completion the actor-playwright was so burdened with debt that he could not live there, but rented it to a rich American. The tenant in time resigned it, and since then the magnificent furniture has rotted and warped from the insidious attacks of damp and heat.

"The first floor consisted of a parlor, dining-room, bedroom and bath. The rooms were lofty. The walls of the parlor were hung in embossed leather of a rich brown hue, while every window was composed of stained glass that was the work of artists. The woodwork was heavy carved oak in both dining-room and parlor, the chairs especially being most elaborate in design and luxurious in their comfort. On the carved oak mantel stood a huge clock with cathedral chimes. It had stopped at 2.30, and I could not help wondering what had happened just as its final tick had died away. The dining-room was surmounted by a huge dome of stained glass, and was lighted in addition by a theatrical fan light at the apex.

"This light formerly burned constantly day and night, as it was so far above that a special pipe from which it was fed could only be reached by means of a step-ladder and a long stick. The bedroom was daintily furnished in blue, a most magnificent silk eiderdown quilt of the same color being carelessly thrown over the foot of the massive brass bedstead.

"The entire cooking, heating and lighting of the house was done by gas, and I was informed that 100,000 feet a month of this fuel was used. Asbestos logs nestled under the mantel pieces of every room, while away at the top of the house in a large room was one of the largest gas stoves ever constructed. I looked at this instrument with awe, and was firmly convinced that whoever cooked the food on it would have to be a proficient gas engineer to understand all the numerous little silver valves that stick out all over it. Bathrooms were connected with every bed-room, and hot water came from the gas monster I have just mentioned. Every bedstead was of brass and around their posts were twined electric wires and push buttons, so that the occupant could summon a servant without rising. At least three of the bedrooms were provided with parlors, and in each there stood a Broadwood piano, making no less than four of these grand instruments altogether. Miss Nina Boucicault's apartments on the second floor were marvels of beauty, the walls of the boudoir being composed of quilted pink satin, and everything was in the most perfect taste. Mouldy, damp and generally uncanny as was the house in its ruined and deserted state, it still possessed a fascination for me. I inquired what would be its future, and the old man who had totteringly shown us about piped feebly, 'It's in chancery, miss,' meaning, I suppose, that the law held it at the instance of some creditors. I passed the house many times afterwards, always casting a glance at its grim and forbidding exterior, concealing the mass of luxury within that had once pandered to the comfort and ease of one of America's greatest playwrights.

"There! I've gone away entirely from everything concerning 'The Little Maverick.' It's too bad that I should have taken up so much of your time, but I'm afraid I can't tell you anything about the play to-night, as I'm expecting some friends to dine. We'll have a chat later on. In the meantime you will have judged for yourself of the merits of 'The Little Maverick.' Good morning."

THE 'COLLAPSE OF A ROTTEN TENEMENT

With crumbling foundation and shaky, bulging walls, is not more certainly to be looked for than the sudden giving way of a constitution sapped by overwork, unremitting anxiety or exposure to hardship and malign climatic influences. Against the disastrous effects of each and all of these, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effectual safeguard. It fortifies the system against them by infusing into it fresh vigor begotten of renewed and complete digestion and assimilation of the food, and its consequent reparative action upon the exhausted tissues and impoverished circulation. No preparative for the undergoing, without injury, of an unusual amount of bodily or mental work, no means of averting malarial infection, or disorders born of bad diet and impure water equals this superlatively fine defensive invigorant. Take it for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, rheumatism, kidney trouble, la grippe.

JOKE ON THE TRAMP.

A tramp was sent to jail in Pittsburg on Tuesday for playing a joke. The evening previous he met a policeman and asked to be arrested and given 30 days in the work-house. He was accommodated, but when the patrol wagon arrived the tramp said he was only joking and asked to be released. The magistrate, however, thought he would like to see the joke carried out.

A BONANZA.

"That dime is only worth 5 cents," said the groceryman to Johnny Fizzletop.

"How's that?"

"It's got a hole in it."

"So a hole in a dime is good for 5 cents?"

"Just so."

"Then give the dime back to me. I'll punch another hole in it and then it will be worth 10 cents. By thunder, I'll punch six holes in it and then it will be worth 30 cents. I'll have money to throw at the birds pretty soon."—Texas Siftings.

ONLY RIGHT TO TELL.

The Rev. Mark Guy Pearse, the eminent English divine, writes:

"Bedford Place, Russell Square, London, December 10, 1888.

"I think it only right that I should tell you of how much use I find Allcock's Porous Plasters in my family and among those to whom I have recommended them. I find them a very breastplate against colds and coughs."

A TRIAL TRIP.

"What is that dreadful racket?" asked Mr. Potter Palmer as he sat in his castle by the sea and listened to a loud pounding in the next room, interspersed with broken ejaculations.

"That," said his man-in-armor, "is Mrs. Palmer practicing."

"But what in the world is she doing?" inquired the anxious husband.

"She is learning to drive the last nail," was the answer.—Detroit Free Press.

It's a problem to all. What is? The fine suits we make to order for $20, while other tailors ask $35 for the same goods. Our $3 and $4 Pants to order are very pretty this season. Our $5 and $6 grade are fine imported goods which you cannot duplicate elsewhere under $9 and $10. Come and see for yourself.

ATLANTIC PANTS CO.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago. Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.

THE DEMOCRATS IN OREGON

Governor Pennoyer Turned Down in Convention with a Significant Thud.

Portland, Ore., April 20.—There were more representative men in the democratic convention yesterday than ever before.

Although the delegation to Chicago is uninstructed, every member is for Cleveland first, last and all the time.

Gov. Pennoyer, who is an anti-Cleveland man, and has made some pretensions to being a presidential candidate himself, was ignored almost entirely.

He was a candidate for national delegate, but received only three votes, and when the resolution to instruct the delegation to offer Pennoyer as a vice-presidential candidate came up it was buried by the friends of Cleveland.

R. R. M. Veatch is the nominee for congress in the First district, and J. H. Slater in the Second. The platform in brief indorses the last national platform, condemns the McKinley bill and lavish pensions, and favors the free coinage of silver.

SHADE BETTER REPORTED

Fluctuations in Grain Were Narrow.

Variations in Prices Favor the Buyer.

Foreign Markets Close Weak—Quotations from all Over the World Gathered for Bee Readers.

At Detroit yesterday No. 2 red wheat closed at 90c. In Toledo at 90 3-4c, and Michigan wheat 1-2c higher.

In Chicago—No. 2 red sold at 86 1-2c. In Toledo at 91 1-2c, closing at 90 3-4c. If any one knows a good reason why No. 2 wheat, or any other number, should not be sent here in preference to any other market, we should like to hear from him.

At St. Louis the price was 85c, and our market will bear shipments thence. Shippers should ponder these things. Toledo is, undoubtedly, the great winter wheat mart of the west.

Where is the Winter Wheat?

Letters from millers this a. m. make the inquiry, what are we going to do for wheat? Can get none from farmers until latter part of May, and cannot make flour at the wheat prices in the grain centers. In New York, Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, and St. Louis there are but 400,000 bushels of No. 2 or contract wheat. To an inexperienced mind like ours it would seem that good No. 2 spring was worth the quotations.

A year ago yesterday, Tuesday, No. 2 soft sold here at $1.20 1-2, and May at $1.22. On the Tuesday in 1890, No. 2 sold at 90c and May at 90 1-2c.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 306,978 bu., and at five other western points 109,339 bu. A year ago to-day the receipts at the same five points were 118,042 bu.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 342,600 bu., and flour to an aggregate of 650.000 bu. Exports of corn, 270,460 bu., and of oats, 61,838 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull and lower for wheat and steady for corn.

Bradstreets' report of the visible supply makes a decrease in wheat of 1,047,000 bus. this side of the Rockies, and 189,000 bus. on the Pacific slope—aggregate decrease, 1,236,000 bus. Decrease in corn, 975,000 bus. and in oats 318,000 bus.

On the American Exchanges wheat opened at a shade better prices and with no development of new conditions bearing on prices. The fluctuations have been narrow.

The statement of Bradstreets transposing a wheat increase in the visible of 878,000 bus to a decrease of 1,236,000 was a bullish item but no good effect from it was traceable. Variations in price have favored buyers, but a great many people believe No. 2 spring wheat at Chicago at 80c for May is cheap. In the last hour of business wheat rallied from one of its depressions and closed quite strong at an advance west of 5-8c and east of 3-8c to 1-2c.

Corn has well maintained At one time the May future advanced to 43 1-8, but it lost a part of its force and closed 3-8 up in Chicago.

Foreign markets are reported closing weak.

In New York May wheat closed 3-8 and July 1-2 better. May corn 1-4 and July 1-8 up. May oats 1-2 up.

In Chicago May and July wheat closed 5-8 up. May and July corn 3-8 up, May corn 1-2 up.

In Toledo a fair amount of trading in wheat futures has been reported, and a quiet steady market. The relative difference of about 7c between May and July was maintained, and market closed very near where it did yesterday. May opened at 92 1-2, sold at 90 1-4 and closed at 91, a gain of 1-8. July sold at 84 to 83 1-2 and closed at 83 7-8, a loss of 1-8; August sold at 82 5-8 and closed at 83 asked, a gain of 1-4.

Cash wheat was in active request and sold at about 1-2c above May. Sales of 35,000 bus. No. 2 soft at 91c. Later car lot sales at 90 3-4c to 1-2c and to 91c. No. 3 soft at 89c to 88 1-2c. No. 4 soft at 84c. No. 1 white at 90c.

Corn—No. 2 at 41 1-2c. No. 3 yellow at 41c to 41 1-2c.

Rye—No. 2 at 78c.

Clover seed—No business.

Governments steady; currency, 6s, 109 bid; 4s, coup., 116 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

Under the lead of Reading and Lackawanna, the general list declined 1-8@ 1 3-4 by 11 o'clock. On the other hand New England was unusually active and strong and advanced 1 3-8c. The selling of the coalers continued after 11 o'clock and extended to Lake Shore, which was freely offered. A NEGRO DOCTORS' CRIME

He Kills a Man Without Warning.

Quincy, Ill., April 20.—Charles Aaron, of Click township, near this city, was brutally murdered by a negro doctor named Smith, alias Jamison, who had been attending his mother for cancer.

Aaron had agreed to give him $300 for curing her. Jamison demanded his money. Aaron refused, saying his mother was not yet cured. Jamison pulled a 44-Colt revolver and shot him in the head, causing death within a few minutes. Jamison then pointed the revolver at Aaron's father and made him sign a check for $300.

Then he grabbed his valise and started down the railroad track for Quincy. The neighbors were called and in a few minutes a half dozen were following him down the track with shotguns. Jamison fired at them steadily and with the utmost coolness.

When his revolver was emptied he would sit down on the bank and deliberately load. The pursuers were afraid to venture within range of his pistol. Two trains, a passenger and a freight came along, going toward Quincy, and Jamison tried to flag them with his red handkerchief. The conductor saw the armed men after him and refused to stop.

After he had gone three miles a deputy sheriff appeared with a Winchester rifle and shot the murderer in the hip and through the fingers of his left hand. Then, as he could no longer use his hand to load his revolver, he threw down the weapon and surrendered. He was brought to Quincy, where a crowd of a thousand had assembled.

Aaron was about 28 years old, and one of the best known and most popular young men in the county. He had several hundred acres of fine farming land and made a specialty of raising fine stock.

Jamison studied Indian medicine in the Cherokee nation and has had sufficient success in this section to give him quite a reputation. He had an office three years ago in Little Rock, Ark., where he is now wanted for attempted rape on a young woman who visited his office to consult him.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WHY NOT

Heed the warning which nature is constantly giving in the shape of boils, pimples, eruptions, ulcers, etc.? These eruptions show that the blood is contaminated, and some assistance must be given to relieve the trouble. S. S. S. is the remedy to help force out these germ poisons, and will enable you to

GET WELL

"I have had for years a humor in my blood, which made me dread to shave, as small boils or pimples would be cut, thus causing the shaving to be a great annoyance. After taking three bottles S. S. S. my face is all clear and smooth as I should be—appetite splendid, sleep well, and feel like running a foot race, all by the use of S. S. S." CHAS. HEATON 73 Lau el st., Phila.

EPPS'S COCOA. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never Fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist.

NOTICE.

To Horsemen, Breeders and Veterinary Surgeons:

A new treatment for colts with congenatol or acquired deformities. By this treatment all deformities or crooked limbs may be made straight, and a deformed colt made to work, trot, or run as well as its more fortunate companion. There are many good, well-bred colts born every spring that are worthless from some slight irregularity in their anatomical make-up. Ninety-nine out of one hundred such colts can be made good valuable horses by this method.

The same treatment will apply to aged horses suffering from weak limbs, exostosis, sprains, relaxed tendons, when absolute rest to parts is necessary. For full particulars, address, with 2c stamp,
